

Due to its lightweight nature the JUPITER IDEAL EPS system is suitable for installing within floating vessels. With space a premium on boats it also makes logical sense to install underfloor heating.

